EBS Paris obtains international EPAS accreditation for 3 years.

The Brussels-based European Foundation for Management Development (EFMD) has just recognized EBS Paris for the quality of its programs with a three year accreditation.

International auditors praised EBS' original positioning and the relevance of its strategy, encapsulated by its guiding principles of Entrepreneurship, Digital, Innovation, and Creativity, in parallel with its strong international aspect.

After meeting the administration, faculty and staff, students and alumni, the auditors appreciated the strong industry ties that the school has forged across sectors, the commitment of its alumni network, the quality of its teaching and research, as well as its innovative and ambitious development projects.

50 years after its foundation by a 24-year-old entrepreneur, EBS Paris is honored by the international recognition the EPAS accreditation brings. We look forward to developing further quality partnerships with the best foreign universities.

"This milestone in the life of the school crowns the efforts made by all stakeholders to ensure the sustainability and development of EBS Paris in the years to come," says Lamia Rouai, Dean of EBS Paris.

A few words about EBS Paris, Business School of the New Economy:

From its founding in 1967, EBS Paris has been a pioneer in business education. Breaking new ground is in our DNA. In 2017 we struck out for new educational horizons, in order to fully prepare our students for the challenges—and opportunities—that lie ahead:

- A curriculum designed to foster Entrepreneurship, Digital know-how, Innovation & Creativity (we call it EDIC).
- An international campus with the creation of sites in San Francisco, London & Geneva.

In other words, we are a Business School for the New Economy. We are a post-secondary institution delivering a state-accredited Master's degree. EBS Paris prepares agile managers for tomorrow's challenges by nurturing their passion for Entrepreneurship, Digital, Innovation, and Creativity in an international environment.

Our curriculum, based on deep expertise, is innovative and student-centered, focused on learning-by-building through seminars, workshops and mentoring that allows everyone to work independently and collectively on original projects. At EBS Paris, we hold ourselves to the highest standards and international benchmarks.

At the same time, we are a community that imparts a unique culture of connecting, above all, to each other, while being connected to the wider world. We expect our students to embrace and act upon our CORE values of Citizenship, Openness, Responsibility and Engagement.

The fruit of our half-century of pioneering work is evident in our rich and inspiring network of 7500 Alumni, located around the globe.
