

TU Graz (Institute of Analytical Chemistry and Food Chemistry) is organising a Summer School on “Food Science and Culinary Arts – from Field to Meal” in cooperation with the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville, USA, taking place in Graz, Austria, from Sunday, 7 to Friday, 19 July, 2019.

Speakers such as well-known food trend expert Hanni Rützler and Johann Reisinger, one of Austria’s highest decorated chefs, guarantee a high-quality programme. Topics include food analysis, food microbiology, sensory analysis, basic food chemistry and global food trends. Of course, there is also time for producing your own sausages, brewing beer and tasting wine!

Interested? Want to know more? Please see:

<http://www.analytchem.tugraz.at/summerschool2019/>

For further information and registration please contact: Erich Leitner, erich.leitner@tugraz.at, professor at the Institute of Analytical Chemistry and Food Chemistry, TU Graz.