

Dear colleague,

greetings from Osnabrück University!

We are excited to let you know that the application period for our 2020 International Summer Schools will begin starting January 15th, 2020. Now in their 11th year, Osnabrück University's Summer Schools will be held from July 19th – August 8th, 2020 and combine challenging academic programs, a variety of cultural activities, German language courses, and opportunities for participants to become immersed in German student life.

We warmly invite your students to apply for the following programs between January 15th and March 31st, 2020:

- Introduction to German Language and Culture A1.1 and A1.2 (GLC), organized by our Language Center,
- Biomembranes and Cellular Microcompartments (BCMC), organized by our School of Biology/Chemistry,
- Intercultural Competencies (INCO), organized by our Institute of Psychology,
- Europe in a Nutshell: German Law and German Culture (GLGC), organized by our School of Law.

Barring personal living expenses and travel costs, all essentials (such as accommodation, tuition, local transport, etc.) are included in the program fee. We are glad to announce that all participants from our partner universities will receive a discount of 250 EUR for all Summer Schools. Depending on the program, a number of different scholarships may be available to applicants as well. Please refer to the attached programs and the course websites for details.

We kindly ask you to share this call for applications with interested students, faculty members, and staff. In addition, any opportunity to promote our Summer Schools via your website will be greatly appreciated. Please feel free to use the attached digital flyers for purposes of informing interested students. Naturally, we will provide you with printed versions via postal mail upon request. For further information, please visit our website or contact us directly via this email address.

Kind regards from Osnabrück,
