

Summer School: Social City Design

6 - 10 July 2020
University of Antwerp

Join us for a 5-day practical, inspiring and engaging summer school on social innovation and human centered design in the city context. Product, service and system designers, social innovators, academic researchers, and multiple other experts from (non-)profit organizations and governmental institutions will guide you through this summer school on social city design. You will be thinking and doing on the following subjects, from different perspectives:

- Superdiversity in the city
- Interactive storytelling in the city context
- Citizen driven design
- Social care, social city?
- Creative bureaucracy
- Human centered design and city challenges

For more info and registrations, check www.uantwerpen.be/social-city-design